To Whom It May Concern:

Morten Tranekær has been external teacher at SDU Kolding since 2019 delivering courses such as Systems development and Project Management, Mobile Web Applications at our BA in “International virksomheds-kommunikation engelsk, IT og webkommunikation”, and a course in Systems Development at our BA in “Informations-videnskab, it og interaktionsdesign”.

Morten creates content for these courses at a high academic level in addition to producing motivating lectures for the students with a balanced theory and practical elements, where he uses his 10+ years of real-world experience from his work as self-standing IT consultant. The courses delivered by Morten provide students with important technical skills that improve their employability possibilities. Furthermore, from students feedback we learned that Morten is a very well-liked teacher.

I consider Morten to be a very competent teacher for technical courses as those mentioned above and I can only recommend Morten Tranekær for any relevant position, he can communicate technical subjects to anybody including persons without any previous technical background, he is a very friendly person, a good colleague and a person with the flexibility and willingness to take challenges even in a short notice and still deliver with a high quality.

Sincerely,

Assoc. Prof. Dr. Rocio Chongtay
